10 Million U.S. Aid for Citrus Men

Skinny Skribbles

C. M. Brown, well-known Redlands citrus grower, is a little sensitive. He is attending the National Citrus conference in Washington, and A. A. Taylor, chief of the AAA general crop section, used the word "freeze" in referring to 1937. Brown suggested the chief just mention it as cold weather. Oh, well, a freeze by any other name inflicts the same injury.

The swallows are preparing to give San Juan Capistrano the adios, Oct. 23 they are moving out. The sparrows will move in, so the nests will lose no tenants. It is the usual transfer which takes place on St. John's day. The birds will be back March 19, St. Joseph's day. Believe it or not, this punctuality of arrival and departure has been going on for 160 years. Where the swallows go, even Ripley hasn't found out.

It has occurred to me that the chief executives of all fraternal organizations could improve the character of their annual conventions if a bulletin was issued just prior to the meetings that department was a virtue, and paid good dividends in community respect. Destroying property isn't funny, even if it is paid for. There is great liberality allowed guests, but this courtesy should be appreciated instead of abused. I've always had a hard time building up property instead of tearing it down. And I have also found a more hearty welcome when my behavior remained within the limits of refinement. Sure, I'm in favor of a good time, but not at the other fellow's expense.

It won't be long now before the letter carrier will be leaving at your house a yellow envelope containing the amount of money you owe the county for taxes. It is an annual service from the county house. It's what keeps the business wheels going around. Notwithstanding the trials and vexations of tax payments, the system is necessary, and has been in force ever since old Caesar placed his authority upon a coin.

Looking forward: The price of turkeys.

Looking backward: When you were able to buy one.

And Albert Perkins wasn't particularly enthusiastic about the price of oranges, so I stopped to converse with him, on the old theory that misery loves company.

Mayor Bowron is asking for $10,000 to find out why city departments were not run the way the voters expected.

Soon be time to punch holes in the pumpkin's physiognomy—one for a mouth, two for eyes, one for nose, and then you won't have a jack-o'-lantern until you lift off the top of the pumpkin's head and put a candle inside. Boy, that'll frighten grandma and granddaddy and "pop" and "mom." Better look out or the goblins'll get you.

The Imperial Valley now has more water to raise more food for which the farmer will get less and less. This reclamation of land may be a good thing, but the problem is how to raise a crop at a profit so the farmer can continue to not only feed someone else, but his own family.

A state relief official before a local service club made the statement that there were 900,000 people receiving sole sustenance from public funds. When one takes into account the state's total population, this number is appalling in the percentage of burden which is placed on taxation.

Bill Deimling drifts in to comment politically and retrospect the earlier history of California, which he knows something about. He hasn't been able to adjust himself to the various vagaries of politics which aim to provide sustenance without adequate compensation. (Continued on Page 2, Col. 1)

WASHINGTON. (AP)—The agricultural adjustment administration tossed out a $10,000,000 figure today for citrus leaders to use as the basis of figuring the amount of government help they needed in solving the industry's surplus problem.

Although delegates to the national citrus conference found significance in this suggestion, AAA representatives made it clear they might not be able to contribute that much money. The figures were suggested, they said, to furnish the basis for working out a program.

HANDICAP OVERCOME
The hint at the extent of government help came after industry representatives failed yesterday to develop a definite program for submission to a joint industry-AAA meeting this morning. Delegates declared they were handicapped because they had been denied an estimate of how much the government was willing to spend.

After stating the tentative figure, AAA spokesmen left the conference room, leaving the industry group to work out details of a means to tackle the surplus problem.

TWO PROGRAMS
Submission of two separate programs was suggested, one contemplating use of the government money only for relief purchases of fruit, and the other looking both to relief purchases and a diversion program.

AAA representatives declined to tell the conference how the agency would divide the government money among the producing areas. They declared no such commitment was advisable, because purchases should be made as market needs arose, without regard to the shares to be received by the various states.

RELIEF PURCHASES
They indicated the agency would be willing to step up its relief purchases, perhaps to buy as much as 25 percent of the crop.

Pamphlet Printers Give Up

All defendants except the missing S. S. Whitman and four "John Does" were in custody today in the "Fools Rush In" criminal conspiracy case, as Burt Harwick and Robert Elliott, proprietors of the Los Angeles print shop where the pamphlets were printed, appeared for arraignment in Santa Ana justice court.

Harwick and Elliott were released on their own recognizance by Justice Chris Pann, sitting here for Justice Kenneth Morrison, since they already have posted $1000 bail in Fullerton justice court in a criminal libel case also arising from the pamphlet's publication.

Eddie Taylor, distributing agency employee who now is in jail on default of $1000 bond, also was brought into court this morning. All agreed to Oct. 31 as a date for preliminary hearing on the criminal conspiracy complaint filed by Dist. Atty. W. F. Menton with the charge that "these men know more than they have told."

Whitman, manager of the Atlas Distributing agency of Los Angeles, has been missing since late last month. H. N. Ellis, attorney for Harwick and Elliott, revealed they never had been arrested on warrants which were issued or them and given to the sheriff's office for service. His clients, he asserted, were appearing voluntarily. Ellis asked the delay preliminary hearing had been set for Oct. 25—because he has a trial scheduled in Los Angeles that day.

SALZBURG, Germany. (AP)—Sixteen Franciscan monks were sentenced today to jail terms ranging from ten days to one month on charges of "incitement to hatred" and "malicious damage to property."

The monastery building is state property, required by Gestapo, secret police.

Relief Rolls Drop In Coast Cities
SAN FRANCISCO. (AP)—Relief rolls, which give a sort of backdoor view of employment and business conditions, declined in most large Pacific coast cities during September.

Largest of the declines was in Sacramento. Figures for the city and county showed a drop of 13 per cent in number on relief, and 17 per cent in public funds spent for their support.

Communist Control Over John L. Lewis Charged at Probe

Radicals 'on Inside' of CIO, Dies Committee Told in Washington

WASHINGTON. (AP)—James Mitchell, of Detroit, formerly in charge of welfare activities of a local union of the United Automobile Workers, a CIO affiliate, told house investigators today that Communists apparently "have a lot of influence on" John L. Lewis.

Testifying before a committee investigating un-American activities, he said Communists had "engineered" a sit down strike in the Murray Plant in Detroit in 1936 and 1937.

Chairman Dies (D. Tex.) asked him what efforts were made by responsible labor leaders to rid the U. A. W. of Communists.

"Homer Martin, president of the U. A. W., Mitchell said, "tried everything in his power. But it seems they are on the inside of the International union. Apparently they have a lot of influence on Mr. Lewis."

The witness said later that Communists could control the forthcoming CIO convention at Pittsburgh "as well as the chairman of the CIO." Lewis is the chairman.

Rising to his feet, Mitchell shook out a red flag bearing the words "Communist party" in gold letters. He said he had found it in the desk of Lloyd Jones, president of U. A. W. local No. 2 in the Murray plant. He said Jones told him to "keep my damn hands off of it."

Previous witnesses have told the committee Jones is a Communist and was a former member of the U. A. W. executive board.

He said Julia Buchanan, who he said was a Communist, told him she would kill him if he ever disclosed anything about Jones.

Earlier, the committee had heard that the Communists try first to control a union and, if that fails, destroy it.

The "rule or ruin" testimony came from Melvin Kells of Detroit, who said he worked with an Americanization committee of the American Legion in uncovering subversive activities.

"They wanted to create a struggle among workers and to sell the union out," he added, explaining that "they" were leaders of a trade union league in the Michigan auto manufacturing area.

SETTLEMENT OF S. F. WAREHOUSE STRIKE ANNOUNCED BY MEDIATOR

SAN FRANCISCO. (AP)—Settlement of an extended labor dispute which closed 138 bay region warehouses and threw 2500 men out of work was achieved early today, Paul C. Smith, mediator, announced.

A basis for amicable termination of the controversy was reached by union and employer representatives at 2:10 a. m. after almost continuous meetings which started early yesterday.

Smith, a San Francisco newspaper executive, stepped in as mediator a fortnight ago when peace efforts were apparently stalemated.

An accord settling the dispute has been reached, Smith announced. "The agreement now goes to the union membership and the members of the Association of San Francisco Distributors for ratification. If the settlement is approved the warehouses should open Monday."

Terms of the settlement were not revealed. The chief stumbling block in negotiations had been a distributors' demand for a long-term master contract for the entire industry.

Eugene Paton, president of the CIO International Longshoremen's and Warehousemen's union, said separate agreements would have to be made to end strikes at the Hiram Walker and P. W. Woolworth warehouses where the dispute had its beginning 102 days ago.

He indicated he anticipated no difficulty on that point.

JAPS 20 MILES FROM CANTON

HONGKONG. (AP)—Evading a major engagement by circling strong Chinese defenses, Japanese forces advanced today to within 20 miles of Canton from the northeast, semi-official Japanese sources reported.

They said another column had reached within about 50 miles of south China's chief city from the east.

In the past eight days the rapidly advancing mechanized invaders have covered about two-thirds of the distance to Canton from their coastal take-off points without formidable resistance.

'COL. GIMP' IN L. A. JAIL AGAIN

LOS ANGELES. (AP)—"Col. Gimp" of the great white way, Martin Snyder, again occupied a jail cell in lieu of $50,000 bail today while the state moved to try him quickly on charges he kidnapped and attempted to murder Myrl Alderman, his successor to Singer Ruth Etting's love.

The original charges against "Col. Gimp" were superseded last night by a grand jury indictment—voted after Miss Etting testified that he shot Alderman, in the music room of her Hollywood hills home last Saturday night. The indictment permits the case to go to trial without a preliminary hearing.

Miss Etting, 42, flaxen-haired and visibly nervous, told the jury Alderman drove up to the house with Snyder holding a pistol against his back. Once inside, she said, Snyder told her, Alderman, and Edith Snyder, her stepdaughter, that "I'm going to kill all of you."

6 Die in Sudeten Rioting

PRAGUE. (AP)—The general staff reported today six persons were killed during disorders provoked yesterday by Sudeten Germans in two separated districts. It said four persons died during rifle attacks by Sudeten German free corps members on a Czech military patrol at Zelenohorice in northern Bohemia.

MAYOR KILLED
A communicable said the mayor of Zelenohorice became the fifth victim when he was killed after the battle was over.

The sixth person reported killed was a farmer in the commune of Vazacka. The general staff announced he was working in his field when a German soldier fired on him.

It said the trouble at Zelenohorice began when the Czech patrol, protesting against the occupation of the village, visited the German commander and urged him to withdraw his troops.

The Czechs declared the Germans had overstepped the new frontier line in taking the place.

CZECHS FIRED ON
During military conference, residents of the village began taking down swastika banners which had been hung in windows prior to the entrance of the German troops.

Members of free corps, the general staff asserted, hurried to the neighboring village of Cizkovic and returned with a detachment of Sudeten customs guards and opened fire on the Czechs.

One Czech soldier and three Czech policemen fell with the first volley. The mayor was killed later because, it was charged, he was carrying firearms.

TERRORISTS ACTIVE
The official communiqué also reported that alleged Hungarian terrorists last Monday seized a section of the railway running between Uzhorod, capital of autonomous Ruthenia, and Velke Kapusany.

The general staff said the Hungarians faced 17 charges of explosives under the rails in preparation for blowing up a train when it passed over but Czech gendarmes and soldiers dispersed the band.

Election of a successor to Edvard Benes as president of Czechoslovakia meanwhile was postponed indefinitely today pending the conclusion of negotiations on the minority problem and establishment of the new frontiers.

Hitler's Dream of Empire Revealed

RICHMOND, Ind. (AP)—Frank E. Gannett of Rochester, N. Y., publisher, said here today Germany's chancellor, Adolf Hitler, planned "an empire greater than the dreams in the Kaiser's head" which would take in all central Europe.

"If Hitler can carry out his plans," he said, "Germany will extend from the Rhine to Russia, from the Baltic to the Balkans and to the northern boundary of Italy. It would even take in Alsace-Lorraine."

Iowa Officers Cut Line of Pickets

SIoux CITY, Ia. (AP)—Officers broke the line of union picketers in front of the strikebound Swift & Co. packing plant here today.

Ex-Soldier Linked to Nazi Spies

Glaser's Letters Identified and Read in Court

NEW YORK. (AP)—Letters tending to implicate Eric Glaser, former United States army private, with a German spy ring operating in this country were read before a federal jury today at the trial of Glaser and two other persons on espionage charges.

The letters were identified by Guenther Gustav Rumrich, United States army deserter who pleaded guilty to spy charges at the opening of the trial and became a witness for the government.

LETTERS READ
Glaser sat motionless as Assistant United States Attorney Lester C. Dunnigan read the letters, which were addressed to Rumrich and signed "Eric Glaser."

"Dear Gus," read one letter dated Jan. 24, 1938. "Well, old boy, I suppose you'll be surprised to hear from me . . . are you still among those living . . . have you got any girls you don't need . . . I think I'll save my say until I hear from you. I have some very (underlined) interesting things to tell you and I don't want to miss up on that . . . Do you hear anything new from the old country?"

SERVICE PAPER OBTAINED
Dunnigan questioned Rumrich about visits he received from Karl Schlueter, and alleged messenger from the spy ring, and Johanna Hofmann, one of the defendants. He also asked Rumrich about subscriptions to the army and navy register which the witness said Glaser obtained for him.

Continuing, Dunnigan said: "You told us you wanted Glaser to furnish names of army and navy men of German extraction. You mentioned that he gave you the name of one Schmidt on the west coast. Did he give you other names?"

LETTERS SENT
"He gave me the name of Zimmerman—stationed, I think, at Panama," said Rumrich. "I told him I had been requested by one of the agents who visited me to furnish names of men of German extraction in the military service. I suggested to Glaser it would be a good idea for him to renew his (Continued on Page 2, Col. 6)

Unemployment Reduced by Million Since June, Says U. S. Expert

WPA PAYROLL EXPECTED TO SHOW DECLINE

WASHINGTON, (AP)—A leading government economist estimated today that business improvement since June has reduced unemployment by 1,000,000 men and women. The economist, who declined to be quoted by name by whose figures are relied on by several agencies, figured there were 10,250,000 persons out of work in June and about 9,250,000 now.

On that basis, about one-fourth of the persons who lose jobs in the recession have been re-employed. After reaching a peak of more than 14,000,000 in the spring of 1933, federal statistics show, unemployment gradually dwindled to 6,000,000 in the summer of 1937.

Then, the recession boosted unemployment about 4,000,000 to a total of 10,400,000. The economist estimated that seasonal work last spring cut the total 150,000 by June.

While unemployment has been shrinking, WPA payrolls have been rising. The list went up from 2,806,000 to about 3,120,000—a record—at the beginning of October. Officials said this rise was caused by the fact that relief appropriations were inadequate until new funds became available July 1, and then it took time to enroll those eligible for aid.

An indication, however, that the administration was looking to early WPA decreases was seen in a statement of Secretary Roper yesterday. Roper, commenting on the general motors recall of 35,000 workers and on other re-employment, said: "It not only opens up the opportunity for self-reliance through private employment, but lessens the relief responsibility of the federal government and opens the way to improvement in the budget situation."

J. C. DEBATE TEAM DRILLS

Santa Ana Junior college's debate squad was today preparing for its first conference contest to be held Dec. 3, according to debate officials.

The team will debate both the affirmative and negative sides of the debate in the course of the season. Santa Ana will compete with other jays in the Eastern conference, which is composed of Fullerton, Pomona, Chaffey, Riverside, San Bernardino and Citrus.

Missouri Officer Says Movie Quiz Event Is Lottery

JEFFERSON CITY, Mo. (AP)—The $250,000 movie quiz contest now being conducted in motion picture theaters throughout the country is a lottery in violation of state laws, Attorney General Roy McKittrick's office ruled today.

Assistant Attorney General Franklin E. Reagan wrote the opinion answering a request from Prosecuting Attorney Elbert L. Ford of Dunklin county. eReagan held that the three elements of a lottery—consideration, prize and chance—were present in the contest, adding "the test of a lottery is not how adroitly worded the scheme is but how it works."

SPECIAL GRAND JURY FAILS TO MEET TODAY

After three full days of testimony, the specially-called county grand jury took a recess this morning, failing to appear at the courthouse for its expected session.

Yesterday its time was divided between an investigation of the "Pools Rush In" pamphlet case and a probe of the county detention home and juvenile court, demanded by the American Legion's county council.

Yesterday afternoon S. B. Kaufman, former district attorney who denounced Sheriff Logan Jackson on the radio just after the pamphlet appeared, went before the grand jury for an hour and a half of testimony.

Another Ousted In L. A. Shakeup

LOS ANGELES, (AP)—The city fire commission refused today to accept the resignation of its secretary, J. R. Spring, close former associate of the inner advisors of former Mayor Frank Shaw's administration, and then removed him from his office.

He was charged with having failed to keep minutes of fire commission meetings, with having absented himself without leave for long periods and with illegal use of a fire department automobile.

10 MILLIONS FEDERAL AID FOR CITRUS

as 4,000,000 boxes of grapefruit alone. For the past two years, the AAA has averaged about 2,500,000 boxes. AAA officials said the agency had spent about $7,500,000 in the past two years on citrus relief and diversion programs.

The officials were said to have indicated the AAA probably would limit its purchases to first and second grade fruit, leaving to the industry itself the burden of disposing of third grades and culls.

SHIPMENT LIMIT
One program which has found favor in the conference has been to eliminate all interstate shipments except those of first and second grade fruit. This regulation presumably would be handled through marketing agreements.

AAA officials said elimination of low grade shipments, however, would fail to handle the entire surplus. They said relief purchases would be used as the means of sustaining the price of marketable fruit, because any purchase of that which is to be kept at home would fail of its purpose.

AGREEMENT HIT
ONTARIO, (AP)—Petitions asking termination of the California-Arizona marketing agreement by Nov. 1 were speeding eastward to Sec. of Agriculture Henry Wallace, Joseph L. McClellan, sponsor of the move, announced today.

The petitions signed by hundreds of orange growers, assert that the agreement "fails to effectuate the declared policy of the AAA," that it creates inequities which "practical operations" have proved cannot be avoided "unwarranted and burdensome expenses on producers."

The petitions also point out the agreement causes serious losses to California and Arizona producers, because citrus producers of Florida and other states are not regulated under a national plan coordinated with the California-Arizona agreement.

DEPUTIES NAB PUNCHBOARDS, SLOT MACHINES

Sixty-eight punchboards and 11 small slot machines were confiscated by sheriff's deputies in a series of raids yesterday on the northwestern part of the county.

Twenty-nine cafes, drug stores and other establishments were visited by four deputies in the course of the raids. Equipment confiscated, they said, was owned by several persons, including Al James of Huntington Beach, Paul Musch of Anaheim, Henry Faust of Santa Ana and the L. B. Harrison company of Santa Ana.

Deputy Sheriffs Steve Duhart and James Musick visited 22 establishments in the Midway City, Oceanview, Sunset Beach and Harbor boulevard sections, confiscating 55 punch boards and 10 small slot machines of the non-automatic payoff variety.

Deputies R. E. Steinberger and A. W. Fullerton visited seven establishments in Buena Park, Atwood, Los Alamitos and Yorba Linda taking into their possession one slot machine and 13 punchboards. The equipment was stored in the county jail.

Superior Judge H. G. Ames today found Gaskill guilty of the crime, following several days of testimony and controversy as to whether Gaskill's reactions to a sobriety test resulted from lead poisoning or liquor. Adrian Marks, defense council, said he would prepare an appeal in the case.

Gaskill was arrested after his car had collided at Fifth and Sycamore streets with an auto driven by the late J. W. Buck, injuring Mrs. Susan Buck and Mrs. Roxie Bennett, passengers. Mr. Buck died of an illness while the trial was in progress, and did not testify in superior court. Deputy District Attorney George Tobias prosecuted. Judge Ames will pronounce judgment at 9:30 a. m. Monday.

contacts with these people whom he had not seen for some time. He agreed. I remember I wrote a letter to Schmidt."

Rumrich said he typed the letter, including Glaser's signature, and that Glaser told him he had written a letter to Zimmerman. Rumrich said he had typed and sent a letter to a man named Fisher in Panama and signed Glaser's name, although Glaser did not see the letter.

RADIO BOOK SOUGHT
Rumrich said he asked Glaser where the "Z" signals came from (in Glaser's memorandum book and relating to communication between aircraft and the ground). "He told me," Rumrich related, "about the book at Mitchell field. He found them in 'A Radio Procedure Book.' He said he might be able to get hold of it. He said in a case he did he would like me to ask $100 for it."

Rumrich testified that Glaser turned over to him, without a request on his part, a list of coast guard stations in the United States.

"Once he told me," Rumrich said, "that his outfit was scheduled to go into maneuvers in the south and that it would be a good chance for him to pick up something."

GIRL SOUGHT
Rumrich told of telephoning Miss Santa De Wanger, who has been in protective custody as a possible witness, saying one of the "contact men" had asked him to locate her, adding that Glaser was outside the telephone booth at the time.

Rumrich said he told Miss De Wanger he was a Mr. Koltz who had just come from Berlin and that he would like to see her and give her a message.

"She said that was very mysterious, and what was it about," Rumrich continued. "I said 'Use your imagination.'"

'Slave Market' of High School to Raise Loan Fund

OSCAR, THE PIG, ON MOVE AGAIN

Oscar, the pig, is on the move again. He is helping the Knights of Columbus increase their membership.

Oscar has been living at the Jim Murphy home, 915 Minter street, but Murphy signed up a new member and, thereby, lost his responsibility to room and board Oscar.

Last night a committee went to the Minter home and, with flashlights, started a hunt for Oscar. Their quest was unsuccessful until they called him by name and he came a-running.

Oscar then was taken to the home of Riley Huber, 1116 South Parton.

The campaign ends with a banquet Nov. 20, but Oscar will probably not be the main item on the menu. The lodgement, growing fond of Oscar, probably will keep him as a mascot.

Officer Killed

CHICAGO, (AP)—Two robbers shot and killed Policeman John Olson, 45, and fled with $2000 snatched from an insurance company cashier the officer was escorting.

JAMES ALLEN ANSWERS ALLEGATIONS

Charges by an American Legion county council member and James L. Davis, candidate for superior court judge, that 127 Orange county boys have been sent to Preston School of Industry in the past five years were denied today by Mrs. Nora Allen, county probation officer.

The Legion's county council went on record last week as demanding an investigation into juvenile court commitments, after Russell S. Norton of Balboa Island alleged 127 Orange county youths had been sentenced to the institution from here.

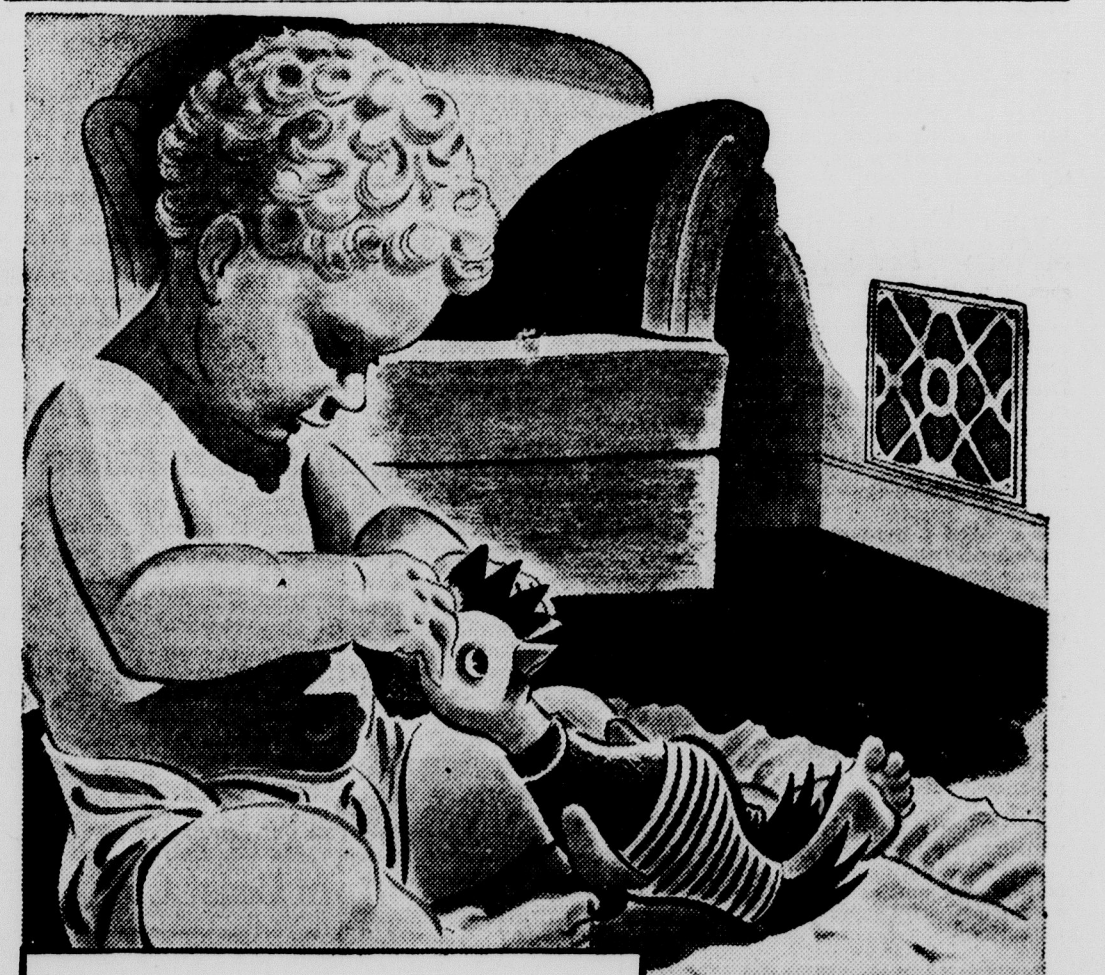

Mrs. Allen said her records and those of the court showed 69 juvenile court commitments to Preston in five years and 50 commitments to Whittier during the same period. Davis, in a radio speech last night, reiterated Norton's figures that 127 had been sent to Preston and 26 to Whittier.

Mrs. Allen also said that other counties whose commitments were cited by Davis have road camps for older juveniles.

"Our detention home," said Davis, "is filled with boys and girls. Some of them are dependents, with no other place to go. But most of them are children who have troubled someone by infringing on the laws. There they are, children who have done no wrong, mingling with older boys and girls who are being punished for wrongdoing."

"It is a generally known fact that more boys are sent from Orange county to the state institutions at Whittier and Preston than from any other county of comparable population in the state. . . . Why is this? Is it because our boys in Orange county are worse than they are anywhere else? I don't believe it! And I tell you that if I am given the opportunity, I'll do something about it!"

The last caribou seen in Maine was reported by two Philadelphia sportsmen on Mt. Katahdin, in 1914.

Just right for baby and everybody else -automatic gas heat!
• warm air, without drafts.
• proper circulation.
• uniform temperatures.

THE ENTIRE FAMILY enjoys healthful comfort with up-to-date gas heating equipment. For the better gas appliances provide far more than just heat. They bring wholesome warmth, properly circulated.

And their automatic adjustment protects against sudden changes in weather. When outside temperatures drop, these appliances give out more heat to keep the house at a uniform temperature. When the weather is warmer, the fuel input is automatically cut down.

What's more, vented gas appliances keep walls dry. Thus they aid in eliminating damage to paint or paper. Add to these values the low cost of natural gas and you'll find that automatic gas heating equipment is one of your most profitable investments.

Ickes Warns Against Spread of Totalitarianism in Nation

LIBERALISM OR REACTION HELD U. S. CHOICE

LOS ANGELES. (AP)—Secretary of the Interior Harold L. Ickes continued his tour of Pacific Coast PWA projects today, leaving a warning that "totalitarianism is insidiously boring from within the temple of our own liberties as well as assaulting it from without."

"No one can escape the responsibility of enlisting on one side or the other," he told a cheering audience of 4,000 persons at the Shrine auditorium here last night. "Either with the liberalism of Franklin D. Roosevelt or with the reaction and the threat of fascism."

Previously, in an interview, he predicted that President Roosevelt "might have to run" for a third term in 1940, but added, "for his sake I hope he doesn't." He said he thought Roosevelt "would carry the United States if he ran again."

Donald Ogden Stewart, Hollywood screen writer, was chairman of the meeting, held under the auspices of the Hollywood council for democracy. On the program were numerous writers, producers, directors and players.

Introducing Secretary Ickes, Stewart told him there were in Hollywood five or six thousand liberals who found themselves "surrounded by propaganda and confusion" and added: "We have seen attempts to raise the witch-hunt of Communism and attempts to destroy the labor movement, just like Hitler did."

Ickes told the audience that Roosevelt, aided by "a Liberal Democratic party," has been trying for the past six and one-half years to make these reforms.

He said that the reforms will give America complete confidence that we may live in the best possible way for all, not a few, of us to live—before the sands of the hourglass run out in Europe's hands."

ATTORNEYS TO HEAR REPORTS

The Orange County Bar Association will hold a noon luncheon meeting at Daniger's cafe Friday to hear reports of delegates to the recent California bar convention, Secretary George A. Parker announced today.

This will be the first noon luncheon meeting of the group since August Parker said.

DESERT WIND IS DUE TODAY

If it's arrived by press time, we don't need this warning. If a desert wind isn't blowing when you read this, it probably will be before long.

Agricultural Commissioner D. W. Tubbs issued this warning today in directing all citrus pest control operators to stop work until the wind is over. On an average, the windy periods last three days or so.

Tubbs said weather reports show a large high-pressure area extending from here through Nevada, Utah and Montana—"ideal" conditions for the pesky winds indicating that the first big blow of the season is at hand.

The street decorations will remain until the New Year, although the recorded musical program will be concluded Christmas day. Stores will remain open Dec. 3 until 10 p. m. to hail the holiday season. An appropriate program is being planned by the chamber of commerce for that evening.

Dr. George Bemis of the University of California at Los Angeles, last night led the third in a series of forum meetings at the Willard Junior High school auditorium, discussing propositions to appear on the November ballot.

Dr. Bemis, speaking from a non-partisan standpoint, explained propositions Nos. 7, 8 and 10. He discussed other propositions in preceding forum meetings.

RENEW YOUR LAST . . .

YEAR'S garments. Don't be discouraged by the appearance of your last year's fall clothes . . . just send them to the WASHINGTON CLEANERS AND DYERS at 1109 North Main . . . They renew them. They will look like new . . . Feel like new . . . And they will wear like new . . . After they have been entirely reconditioned by their exclusive process. Doubtlessly many of last year's clothes are still in perfect style . . . And all they need is a little freshening up. Even though they do look hopeless, send them to the WASHINGTON CLEANERS AND DYERS and they will clean them up and return them looking like new . . . And ready for another full season's wear. When you go on that date with the special boy friend . . . You want to look especially neat and well groomed. So whether it is your special formal that has the marks of the last party on it, or a dress suit, coat or gloves . . . Send it to the WASHINGTON CLEANERS for best results.

Tux and Gown Chatter

The time is ripe for formal wear. From October through New Years', your formal will be having a lot of wear. I went to my first formal for this fall a few nights ago . . . and the sight of all those lovely gowns of different hues, dancing in the pale light to the strains of soft tones, just made me want to dance, and dance all evening. The predominating styles were the low necked, nipped in waist, and billowy skirted styles. One young lady was wearing a black taffeta strapless with a massive skirt that had a hoop beneath it I am sure. There was a white panel down the front . . . to break the solidness of black. She wore a black velvet ribbon with a locket around her throat . . . and a black velvet ribbon around her wrist. Indeed she looked like a demure young thing stepping right out of the past.

The full skirted dresses have been trying a comeback for some time . . . and this year will be about all you will see. I am not a bit sorry, however . . . for seeing those lovely gowns moving gracefully on the dance floor . . . made me forget this was the "Jitter-Bug" age and begin to believe that modern youth is coming back to the sane . . . graceful dancing once more . . .

Until next week . . . BARBARA.

Dance Team To Be Ebell Feature

Unique among their programs of the past several seasons will be next Monday's presentation at the Ebell club, for at that time members will have the pleasure of seeing the famed dancing team of Tihmar and Jarnac, previously featured at the Metropolitan opera house, and headliner on the Hollywood bowl during the past four seasons.

On an Indian reservation in Oklahoma, David Tihmar as a small boy, watched and was inspired by the tribal dances of the red people. The rhythmic ceremonies, the gaudy costumes, combined with the grace of these primitive people caused young Tihmar to select dancing as his profession. He continued his academic education with this in mind and began an extensive study in his chosen field. He has worked with practically all of the leading dance masters of this country which has gained for him the ability to prepare a repertoire of great versatility. His most recent experience in this line was exchange work with Gopal, Hindu dancer. Gopal spent several months in Hollywood recently. He wished to study the dances at the Western world and in exchange for this, he taught young Tihmar some of the "tricks of the trade" as it relates to the East. Tihmar was an apt pupil as his Hindu numbers confirm.

He and Jarnac are doing extensive motion picture work and in this has arisen a situation which is both amusing and paradoxical. Tihmar is now often called upon to arrange and coach dances on the motion picture lots in which the participants are American Indians. Tihmar is one of the able assistants of Albertina Rasch who heads the dance department at the Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer studios.

Presentation of the silver membership drive cup was made to the members of the second grade by Mrs. Cecil Wilson, and tiny Miss Joanne Franklin made a clever acceptance speech.

Miss Catherine Chapman's fourth graders entertained the groups with seasonal songs and numbers, after which the sixth grade mothers under the direction of Miss Gertrude Potts, teacher of the class, were hostesses during the refreshment hour.

Preceding the meeting, the executive board held a short business meeting, at which time it was decided to bring Alva Brower and his three assistants to the school for his well known ventriloquist act Nov. 7. He will be presented twice, at 3 p. m., and again at 7:30 in the evening.

WILSON

Supt. of Schools F. A. Henderson addressed members of the P-T. A. of Woodrow Wilson school Tuesday when that group met at the school in the afternoon for a scheduled session.

Allene and Tommie Sue McChrissy entertained with several duets from light opera, and Miss Hopland's sixth graders were awarded the attendance prize.

It's to be "carnival time" at the school this Friday when the annual event is scheduled to take place beginning at 3 p. m., and concluding at 9 p. m. There are to be many interesting and different features, it was announced today, with a tea being served during the afternoon, and dinner at 5 p. m., ending at 7 p. m. The affair is open to the public and everyone is invited.

LOWELL

Introduction of teachers by Miss Mildred McLeod, principal, was accomplished at a meeting of Lowell P-T. A. Tuesday evening, when many mothers and fathers were present. As each was presented, Mrs. Hattie Gibson, P-T. A. president, gave her an attractive vase from the group.

Fifth grade students under the direction of Mrs. Mary Wolff presented a play entitled "Life Size Pictures of Early California," and Miss Audrey Harrell gave a piano selection, after which the school orchestra, directed by S. J. Mustel, played two numbers.

An interesting panel discussion of growth of the child was led by Mrs. Golden Weston, with Miss Mead, Oscar DeBeek, Mrs. F. W. Garlock, and John Wilket speaking on the points of view of the home, the school, the church, and the community.

Refreshments served by fifth grade mothers, Mrs. Helena Raymond, Mrs. Fred Drake, and Mrs. Glen Griger, concluded the evening.

Kiwanians Ask Hull to Use His Influence to Protect Mandate Over Palestine

The Kiwanis club of Santa Ana today forwarded to Secretary of State Cordell Hull a resolution asking him to use his influence to prevent the reported repudiation of the Palestinian Mandate by Great Britain.

"It is the only hope for thousands of Jews so frantically looking for a place of refuge," the resolution said.

The mandate, adopted by the American-British mandate convention in 1924, should be adhered to, the resolution read. It was declared that the British government had agreed not to withdraw its protection from Palestine without the approval of the United States.

The resolution, presented by Rev. Harry Owings at yesterday's noon meeting, was unanimously adopted.

Speaker was C. E. Triggs, of assistant administrator of relief for California.

A feature of the meeting was the appearance of a half dozen members of the Tustin 4-H club, sponsored by the local Kiwanis club. Headed by Assistant Farm Advisor Ross Crane and their leader, Bruce Johnson, the boys spoke briefly about their projects.

Ask Doctor About This Ideal Way TO LOSE FAT

READ EVERY WORD!

Make up your mind now that you'll lose some of that ugly fat and really enjoy life.

No one can blame you if you don't want to take harmful drugs, go on starvation diets and do backbreaking exercises. No sane woman would! And for sensible women like yourself who really want to reduce yet don't expect miracles overnight—who are willing to faithfully follow a most simple, inexpensive and pleasant 28 day plan (women considerably overweight naturally require longer periods), we suggest this easy plan.

First of all go light on fatty foods and sweets. Eat plentifully of lean meats, fresh fruits and vegetables. And for proper functioning be sure to take a half teaspoonful of Kruschen salts in hot water every morning. And let's get this straight right now about Kruschen.

It is not harmful. It is NOT just an old salt as some people may ignorantly believe. Look on the box! You'll see it is a blend of 6 active mineral salts, which when dissolved in water is similar to the famous medicinal waters of European Spas where wealthy fat people have gone for years.

A jar of Kruschen costs but a few cents and makes 5 gallons of marvelous mineral health water. Get a jar RIGHT AWAY! At McCoy Drug and druggists everywhere.

United Action Is Way to Higher Citrus Returns

Only by working together can growers utilize these three sources of improved income

Citrus returns can be increased by (1) cutting costs, (2) selling more fruit or (3) raising prices. These three ways are the only ones. And none can be made fully effective without the united action of the industry.

(1) Costs have been cut by Exchange members as they have gained the benefits of large volume operation. They share services unavailable to the single grower except at prohibitive expense. Their representations have weight at freight-rate and other hearings. Their economy measures gain in effectiveness with the growth of membership.

(2) More fruit can only be sold through widened distribution and increased demand. The Exchange has unexcelled sales facilities in domestic and foreign markets, and is fully supplying existing demand everywhere to the best of its ability. Beyond this, the Exchange has done more than any other agency to build demand, with over thirty years of continuous Sunkist advertising. This year, a record crop of Valencias was sold at prices which advanced more than fifty cents per box (Exchange f. o. b. average) during the season, as the result of determined efforts to stabilize marketing. Much more can be accomplished in this direction with increased support from within the industry.

(3) Raising prices is chiefly a problem of regulating shipments to the immediate demand. This regulation can only be accomplished by the unanimous action of growers, as provided by the Citrus Marketing Agreement. Finally, however, higher prices must depend upon the industry's ability to further increase the consumption of citrus fruits.

Higher citrus returns, by whatever means, inevitably hinge on united grower action.

Curb On F.D.R. Is Asked

Urging election of Mayor C. T. Johnson of San Bernardino as congressman from the Nineteenth district, Joe Scott of Los Angeles told several hundred Republicans at a rally here last night that "We've got to put President Roosevelt in a position where he can't do any more damage. Then we shall pave the way to restore American government two years hence."

Scott treated his listeners to good, old-fashioned oratory in denouncing Senator Culbert Olson, Democratic candidate for governor, as "a man of whom California never heard until he went into office on the coattails of Upton Sinclair four years ago."

"TOO MANY NUTS"

Mayor Johnson said that from a defeatist attitude, the Republicans have built up a party spirit to a point where he feels safe in predicting the Republican slate will be vindicated in November.

CHOICE OF ROADS
The American people are not constituted to accept the type of leadership we now have in Washington," he said. "The people there are only eager for power and eager to perpetuate themselves in office."

Assemblyman E. V. Latham of Los Angeles, who is in charge of Gov. Merriam's campaign in Southern California, said that the campaign is to decide whether California shall follow a road of constructive government or whether the state shall be turned over to a socialistic regime headed by Candidate Olson, Downey and Patterson.

"I often wonder," he said, "if the real Democrats aren't ashamed of their candidates as we are."

VICTORY FORECAST

Latham said that forces working for Gov. Merriam were going to carry Los Angeles county in the coming election.

Adrian Marks of Santa Ana, candidate for assemblyman in the 74th district, urged careful scrutiny of laws before they are adopted, pointing out that the state already is law-ridden. Marks and the other speakers were introduced by Col. M. B. Wellington.

Also introduced were Justus Craemer of Orange, state building and loan commissioner; Phil Stahon of Anaheim, member of the state highway commission; and Dr. Rossiter of Santa Ana, member of the state board of health.

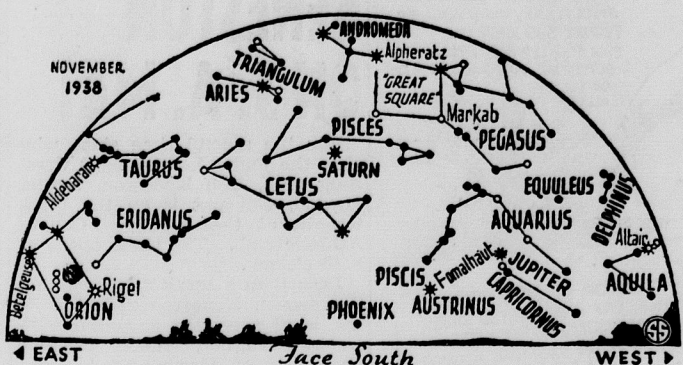

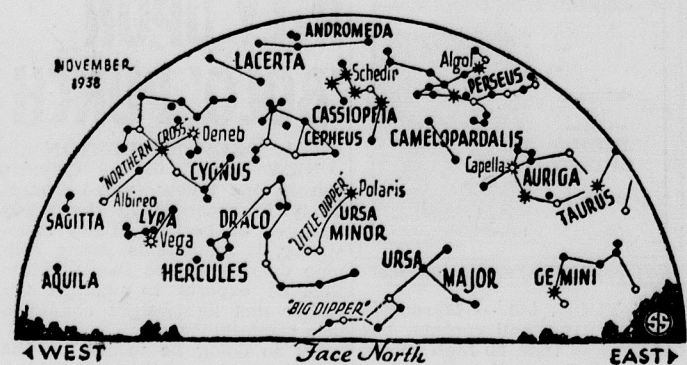

The rally opened with a barbecue served in Santiago park.

November Brings Total Eclipse of Moon

Astronomers to Mark Bi-Centenary of Sir William Herschel's Birth

BY JAMES STOKLEY

Science Service Astronomical Writer
Director of the Fels Planetarium of
The Franklin Institute
(Copyright, 1938, by Science Service)

Except for the moon, the brightest object seen in the evening sky during November is the planet Jupiter. It stands in the southwest at the time for which the accompanying maps are drawn (10:00 p. m., November 1; 9:00 p. m., November 15 and 8:00 p. m., November 30). Near it is Fomalhaut, a bright star in the constellation of Piscis Austrinus, but much inferior in brilliance to the planet. High in the south, in the fishes, Pisces, is the second planet of the November evening, Saturn. It also is considerably fainter than Jupiter, but it is more brilliant than any other object in the vicinity.

Several easily identifiable star groups appear in the evening. In the west, standing vertically, is the "northern cross," part of Cygnus, the swan, with Deneb at the top. Near the foot of the cross, to the west, is the "southern cross," part of Crux, the cross, with the star Rigel at the top. Near the foot of the cross, to the east, is the "winter triangle," part of Orion, the hunter, with Betelgeuse at the top. Near the foot of the cross, to the east, is the "winter triangle," part of Orion, the hunter, with Betelgeuse at the top.

November brings two eclipses. One, a total eclipse of the moon, on the seventh, will be visible in all parts of the United States except the far west. The second, a partial eclipse of the sun, on the 21st, will not be visible in the United States except in the far west, which seems to be a very equitable arrangement. However, the lunar eclipse will be considerably more interesting.

An eclipse is caused when a dark object comes in front of something else and conceals it from view, or when a dark body comes between a bright one and another dark one on which its light is shining. The moon eclipse is of the latter sort. The moon, like the planets, has no light of its own, but shines by reflected sunlight. Every time the moon is full, it is in practically the opposite direction from the sun, so we see its entire sunlit half. Usually, however, the earth is sufficiently far above or below the exact line joining the other two bodies so that our shadow does not fall on the moon. But occasionally, as this month, the three come in the same line. The solid earth prevents sunlight from reaching the moon, which is then eclipsed.

The moon's second eclipse, of the sun, is merely partial, because the dark part of the moon's shadow will not reach the earth at all, though the outer part will. Where it is at a maximum, in the middle of the Pacific ocean, a little more than three-quarters of the sun's diameter will be covered by the dark lunar disc. Some eclipse will be seen over most of the northern Pacific ocean, the western coast of the United States and Canada, Alaska, eastern Siberia and China and Japan.

As a partial eclipse is of no scientific importance, no efforts are being made to observe it. Even in British Columbia, Washington, Oregon and California, it will not be at all spectacular, for the sun will set before the eclipse has reached its height. However, the people in these states may notice as the sun descends into the ocean that a pie is apparently bitten out of the lower edge, the effect of the encroaching edge of the moon.

To the astronomer, especially those who study the history of their science, November 15 will be an important date. It marks the two hundredth anniversary of the birth, in Hanover, Germany, of Frederick Wilhelm Herschel, of Frederick Wilhelm Herschel, better known to fame as Sir William Herschel. He served with the Hanoverian guards as a bandman, but after being released (and not deserting, as sometimes stated) from his military obligations, he emigrated to England. In 1766 he became organist at the Octagon Chapel in Bath. As he was interested in astronomy and could not afford to buy proper telescopes, he made his own, the first in 1774, which was followed by many others. With one of these, a reflector, in which the light was focussed by a concave mirror 6 1/2 inches in diameter, he made his first great discovery in 1781, when he found the planet Uranus. Because of this King George III appointed him King's astronomer, and installed him in a house at Slough, near Windsor Castle. He was given a pension, so that he could devote his entire attention to astronomy and telescope construction. His greatest was an instrument with a four-foot mirror; one that, even today, would be considered large.

Race for Sheriff Generates Heat

Gamblers Back Elliott, Charges Sheriff Jackson; 'What Are They Doing in Orange Co.?' Is Reply

Answering allegations of Sheriff Logan Jackson that "gamblers and slot-machine profiteers" are supporting the campaign of his opponent, Constable Jesse Elliott, Otto Jacobs, Santa Ana attorney, took to the radio last night to ask:

"What has the sheriff of Orange county been doing the last eight years? Why are they (gamblers and slot-machine profiteers) in Orange county at all?"

Jacobs, speaking over KVOE in behalf of Elliott's campaign for sheriff, contradicted statements by Jackson supporters that the speaker's charges involving a sheriff's deputy had been disproved. He quoted election returns from districts where Jackson said "the gamblers" had influenced the vote, and from agricultural districts "where, certainly, no vice exists" to show that Elliott's margin over Jackson in the primaries was even greater than in the cities. (Elliott's vote in the primary totaled 18,871, Jackson's 12,147.)

"Before the primary election, over this radio station," said Jacobs, "I gave an address on the sheriff's office. . . . In that address the pamphlet, 'Fools Rush In' was referred to and the conduct of G.

F. McKelvey, deputy sheriff, in obtaining a transcript of the testimony in the Channing Follette case in Los Angeles. A portion of the testimony in this case had been used in the second pamphlet, which was not distributed, and which pamphlet had been printed at the same plant that printed the scurrilous 'Fools Rush In' . . .

"Subsequently, the charge was made that my statement had been disproved. This particularly by Bill Hart of the Orange Daily News and Sheriff Jackson's weak carbon copy, Deputy Sheriff Fred Wilbur."

Jacobs went on to say that Jackson's men quoted a letter from Dist. Atty. W. F. Menton, dated Aug. 26, saying that McKelvey and other deputies "no evidence has been submitted to me . . . ordered or paid for the pamphlet."

" . . . there was nothing stated in the address as to anyone who ordered or paid for . . . these pamphlets," declared the speaker.

"Fred Wilbur then took it upon himself to go on the radio and in fancy words call me a liar," said Jacobs. "Was my statement about G. F. McKelvey disproved? I am positive it was not!"

" . . . It appears that the address of Sheriff Jackson not satisfied with endeavoring to deny true statements, but conceived the idea to accuse a lawyer of writing the pamphlet. . . . If this is a lawyer's job, as Sheriff Jackson definitely maintains, why does he not, with such information, supported by his investigators and his law enforcement officers, present the same to the grand jury, or have the district attorney issue a complaint against such person?"

Jacobs demanded to know if Jackson had done anything about cleaning up gambling since receiving a letter from Atty. Gen. U. S. Webb denouncing it, and quoted Jackson's radio speech in which he said "I ask you to go, or send someone, to visit the beer joints and the slot machine joints and the gambling joints, and, if you like, the brothels, and find out who is their candidate for sheriff."

"Is that an admission," Jacobs asked, "that gambling joints and brothels exist, and it is known where all these places are? If so, what has the sheriff of Orange county been doing the last eight years? Or does it take another four years to clean up this situation?"

M.E. Church, South, Opens Five-Day Conference Here

MAYOR GREET PASTORS AT FIRST SESSION

An official welcome was extended today to 103 ministers and half a hundred laymen who arrived in Santa Ana from every corner of California to attend the five-day Pacific Annual Conference of the Methodist Church South.

Sessions will be held daily at the Spurgeon Methodist church at 801 North Broadway. This is the final conference of the M. E. Church South in California before the merger with the other branches of Methodism.

In the opening session last night Mayor Fred Rowland welcomed the delegates on behalf of the city, while Rev. W. S. Buchanan of the Christian church extended a welcome on behalf of the ministers of Santa Ana.

Dr. C. F. Holman, pastor of the First Methodist church here, spoke in behalf of United Methodism and brought forth greetings to the visitors.

Bishop W. C. Martin of Glendale, head of the M. E. Church South in the entire western area, responded.

First business was the election of Dr. Grover Emmons of Nashville, Tenn., as secretary of the conference. Dr. Emmons is a national officer, being secretary of the home mission board of the denomination. A former Long Beach pastor, he is still a member of the California conference.

After roll call, reports from the retired ministers of California were heard. There are 24 of these super-annuates, some of whom are still serving in small churches. These reports continued this morning.

Business of the conference swung under way this morning with Bishop Martin presiding. Business sessions will be held daily, with the convention closing Sunday with announcement of church assignments and appointments for the coming year.

Dr. Roy L. Smith, pastor of the First Methodist church in Los Angeles, preached this morning at 11:30 o'clock, with Rev. Bob Schuler of the Trinity church in Los Angeles, scheduled to preach at the same time tomorrow.

Dr. Emmons will speak at 7:30 o'clock tonight on church missions.

Symphony To Be Presented Here Tonight

A near-capacity house is expected to hear the concert tonight at the high school auditorium when the Federal Music Project's symphony orchestra, numbering 60 musicians, gives its second concert in the autumn series.

With the opening strains of Tchaikovsky's Vth symphony, the program will get underway promptly at 8:15. The Tchaikovsky score will be followed by the wildly Russian fantasia, "A Night on Bare Mountain," and will also include the overture to "Hansel and Gretel" by Humperdinck.

Featured as violin soloist, Gloria Chiappinelli who scored a success as guest artist with the orchestra last winter, returns to play Saint-Saens' concerto in B Minor. The concerto (for violin and orchestra) is written in three movements, the second a barcarolle quite Italian in colour at the end of which a charming effect is produced by the employment of harmonics for the solo instrument.

Miss Chiappinelli is 14 and is regarded as outstanding among juvenile artists. Her technical accuracy in playing highly difficult compositions, and the warmth and colour of her work have occasioned comment wherever she is heard. Conductor Leon Eckles declared:

"Tickets will go on sale at the high school box office opening at 7 p. m. tonight. The same popular price scale will prevail, with half-prices for students and WPA workers."

Italy Bars Koshers Killing by Jews

TURIN, Italy, (AP)—The newspaper, Gazzetta del Popolo, today announced that kosher killing of animals for Jewish consumption has been prohibited in Italy. Henceforth all animals must be killed in accordance with the 1928 law which provides killing must be as speedy as possible. Heretofore exception to this law has been conceded to Jews.

PLAYERS PLAN REHEARSAL OF SHOW TONIGHT

Final rehearsal of "Counselor-at-Law," Elmer Rice play which is to be given Friday and Saturday nights at the Santa Ana Ebell auditorium, will take place tonight at the clubhouse at 8 p. m., with members of the Community Players cast in the roles.

Under the direction of Gladys Simpson Shafer, this is the initial production of the group beginning the winter season. Tickets are available at the Santa Ana Book store.

This is the third courtroom play to be given by the Players within three years, popularity of the type making a demand for them, according to members of the cast. All stage work, costuming, and properties used in the production are handled by players who do not have acting parts.

Creamer Foresees Merriam Victory

"Raymond Haight's withdrawal from the race for governor assures the reelection of Gov. Frank F. Merriam," predicted Justus Craemer, Orange publisher and former state Republican central committee chairman, today.

"Unquestionably if there had been any doubt as to the outcome of the contest for governor," said Craemer, "Haight's action assures the re-election of Merriam."

$3388 Suit Filed After Accident

V. J. Purkiss, superintendent of a liquid gas manufacturing plant at Long Beach, today filed suit in superior court for $3388.34 damages against E. J. Levensgood, driver of the other car in an auto crash. The crash occurred Oct. 7 on Orangeforpe boulevard and Stanton street, and Purkiss claims Levensgood was responsible for his injuries.

By JOHN HIX

'The First Defense'

Anne O'Hare McCormick, writing for The New York Times Magazine, reports a significant private interview with President Roosevelt. Mrs. McCormick, winner of the 1936 Pulitzer Prize for foreign correspondence, says the opinions she expresses were amplified by the President in conversations with her. She asserts that:

"The new efforts to conciliate business and reconcile the differences of the CIO and the AFL are not merely a pre-election gesture. They are the outgrowth of the European crisis and the settlement made at Munich, but not in the sense in which the President's statement to that effect has been interpreted.

"Europe's plight brought home to Washington the urgent necessity of internal unity and the consolidation of forces in the United States.

"The tense weeks of crisis convinced Mr. Roosevelt not only that the first defense of democracy is strength on the home front, but also that if a new synthesis of interests and energies is required to save representative government it must be worked out in this country."

If the President has been convinced of that, it is a most heartening development. For all Americans need to be convinced of it, and Mr. Roosevelt's example is powerful.

Domestic war fare—between government and business, between capital and labor, between factions of labor—is costly and dangerous at any time. In the world as it is today, with dictatorships challenging more and more vigorously that conception of freedom upon which America was founded, domestic warfare has become too dangerous, too costly to be tolerated.

The German philosopher, Hegel, held that everything reasonable is real and everything real is reasonable. Wonder how he would have accounted for Adolf Hitler?

An Idea Gone Astray

If it had only been Colbert or Crawford or Shearer who came home from Europe wearing red woolen stockings! Instead of Garbo—that would be news!

For then the western wool grower would have known that his market was going to boom, and that red woolen stockings would soon be seen on the highways and byways of this broad land. And, by the same token, the ever-busy silkworms of Japan and the Orient could have taken a much-needed rest.

But it was Garbo. And Garbo, although a very fine actress (some say great actress), does not set styles. A great publicity getter, too, is Garbo, but she doesn't set the styles.

And so we won't see red woolen stockings very much in town and city except as parts of sports ensembles. Worse luck, for red woolen stockings are not only good looking, but they would do something toward protecting the shivery shanks of the ladies, bless 'em, from the wintry winds that are just around the corner.

It seems to us there's an idea in this somewhere for the associated wool growers and the amalgamated stocking makers.

In the executive branch of the United States government are 850,000 jobholders, all of them strong for security of employment.

Then and Now

News item, 1938—"British troops have recaptured the town of Bethlehem, and were welcomed back by the inhabitants, some of whom said they had suffered greatly during the time the town was held by Arabians."

News item from Luke, second chapter—"And it came to pass, as the angels were gone away from them into heaven, the shepherds said one to another, Let us now go even unto Bethlehem, and see this thing which is come to pass, which the Lord hath made known unto us.

"And they came with haste, and found Mary, and Joseph, and the babe lying in a manger.

"And when they had seen it, they made known abroad the saying which was told them concerning this child.

"And all they that heard it wondered at those things which were told them by the shepherds."

Britain sends an army to Palestine to protect the Jews. 'Tis news, being contrary to European custom.

Charlie's In

Edgar Bergen, accompanied of course by Charlie McCarthy, has won his way into "Who's Who in America." The news is being received with general approval.

We're not always quite certain, in the case of Messrs. Bergen and McCarthy, whose personality is which. But the presence of a personality is unmistakable. It fully entitled Mr. Bergen (and Mr. McCarthy) to recognition by "Who's Who."

Some 31,514 other persons—including statesmen, authors, artists, scientists, soldiers, educators, editors—are listed in the new edition of that useful book. A great many of them have had less real influence on American life than Mr. McCarthy (and Mr. Bergen).

Some folks give thanks on Thanksgiving Day for what they've had and some for what they hope to get.

Fair Enough

By Westbrook Pegler

NEW YORK—I am mildly startled to read that suits have been filed against Walt Disney on allegations that he plagiarized the work of two original composers in songs used in his production of "Snow White." This was to me the first intimation that plagiarism, brain-picking or even outright, undisguised theft was held to be improper, much less illegal, in an art whose ethics and morals always seemed to have been frankly stolen from the pickpocket and chicken thief.

Larceny long ago came to be regarded as respectable practice, for there have been recitatives in vaudeville and in the night clubs in our time who made a specialty of playing current popular songs and then playing them over again with slightly different tempo and accent to demonstrate that they had been stolen from more or less familiar pieces.

FIVE SWIPED
In the last dozen years or so at least five popular American songs, including one great national success, have been swiped from an old English hunting and drinking song called "Cram-Bam-Boolee," which the British fliers sometimes roared far into the night.

And it was a surprise to me one evening a few years ago, on tracing these American pieces unmistakably to the English hunting and drinking song, to be told by a friend in the composing business that the English song itself probably had been stolen from a German song, apparently even older, which he then showed me in a reference book and played over on the piano to prove the same.

This was by no means a rare case. He continued for more than an hour checking songs of current or recent American popularity whose composers had had the gall to copyright them as original work, including one rank theft from Gilbert and Sullivan's "Tit-Willow" and even found songs stolen from songs which themselves plainly had been stolen.

It appears to be a very loose woman, this composing trade, and of such habits that a man producing a musical show or movie might be permitted a little surprise and hurt on being sued for infringement, even if it were true that he did infringe and knew it all the time.

DON'T LOSE SLEEP
I suggest, however, henceforth no original author need lose any sleep over the subject of his rights to his work, because, as music is played nowadays, not even the author himself would be likely to detect any resemblance to his property.

Benny Goodman's version of "Alexander's Ragtime Band" is one that will serve the purpose of illustration—a performance so tricked out in his own rare cleverness and fancy work that it seems a 90 per cent waste of his money to pay Irving Berlin his royalties on the grand old job that made the feet shuffle and the shoulders hunch in its tumbling rhythm when you and I were young.

This thing called swing as applied to a well-loved song is like a bath of some distracting French ketchup from molten tar and ketchup sloshed over a Kansas City T-bone, and it is my own but earnest hope that some daring maestro will one day organize a band of musicians who can read music and play what is written to revive for the members of my generation in recognizable form the music of our teens and twenties.

What Other Editors Say

OF SPECIAL VALUE
If there is one edition of the state which ought to cast a unanimous vote in favor of the Garrison revenue bond act, it is Superior, California.

For it is this district which will, above all others, reap the benefits to be derived from this act. As one correspondent puts it tersely in a letter to the Bee:

Southern California cities are getting cheap power from Boulder Dam. Oregon and Washington will benefit in like manner from the power to be developed from the Bonneville and Great Coulee projects.

But Superior California will find herself fatally handicapped in winning new factories, payrolls, etc., if she continues to be a region of high power costs in competition with regions with low cost power.

Of course, the present beneficiaries of the high power cost set up are doing their utmost to keep the Garrison act from becoming a part of the statutes of the state. And to that end the power trust is pouring out thousands upon thousands of dollars in order that it can control the marketing of cheap power from the Shasta dam unit of the General valleys project.

Do not be misled by the power trust propaganda. Section of the state which ought to cast a unanimous vote in favor of the Garrison act and freedom for this generation and those to come from bondage to the privately owned public utility companies.—Sacramento Bee.

WASHINGTON.—(Special).—Rebuilding of the hurricane-ravaged forests in the former estate of a prime natural resource is an outstanding task now being undertaken by New England as the people turn to the task of reconstructing their battered communities.

Representing New England's forestry interests, Ward Shepard, director of the Harvard forest, has been in consultation here with the U. S. forest service, the Civilian Conservation Corps, the Works Progress administration and other government agencies, discussing the present emergency and in setting up a long-time reconstruction program.

At present, about half of southern New England's trees are down. What once were forests and farm woodlots are tangled heaps of splintered trunks and limbs piled like giant match sticks and waiting for sparks to turn a literal inferno loose. The second tropical disturbance, which on Friday and Saturday poured heavy rains on the ruins, was a cause of thanksgiving to the anxious watchers, for it gave insurance against forest fires for a week or two.

In the meantime it is hoped to get emergency fire-prevention program into operation. First step will be the recruiting of officers and personnel. U. S. forest service experts are already on the ground, and companies of the CCC and WPA are being moved up to the front. As far as practicable, emergency worker corps from adjacent states will also be moved into the area of action, and the knots of official red tape will be cut to the limit.

A five-fold scheme of attack has been laid out: (1) Forty-foot strips will be cleared of down timber along all highways. (2) Roads and fire-lanes will be re-opened through the forested areas as fast as axes and saws can be piled. (3) Extra men will be put on fire patrol. (4) Down timber will be removed.

The Merry-Go-Round

By DREW PEARSON and ROBERT S. ALLEN

WASHINGTON — When the wage-hour act goes into effect next Monday, the event will mark a notable milestone in U. S. economic history—but to begin with it will be mostly on paper.

As a result of sabotage by congressional foes of the law, it will get under way with funds sufficient only to apply it to a small fraction of the millions of workers whose pay and work-week were to have been bettered.

The White House asked for $1,500,000 to administer the measure. That sum would have permitted employment of an adequate staff of experts and lawyers in Washington, and establishment of the state and regional field offices necessary to enforce the law. But in the confusion of the closing hours of congress, the diehard opponents of the bill succeeded in slashing the appropriation to $400,000.

Even this drastically curtailed fund had strings tied to it. earmarked for the children's bureau and bureau of labor statistics was $105,000 to cover the cost of preliminary surveys, thus leaving only $295,000 for administrative purposes.

Thus, although every industry affected by the law is required to comply with its wage and hour provisions from next Monday on, Administrator Elmer Andrews will actually be able to tackle only two—textiles and garments.

Two others, shoes and tobacco, may come later, but that will be the limit of his range until additional funds are provided by the new congress. Even this limited activity is overtaxing the small staff Andrews has been able to assemble. It has been working nights and Sundays steadily for weeks.

PWA LETUP
Before leaving Washington on his western inspection trip, Secretary of Interior Ickes called his PWA workers together and warmly congratulated them for their dispatch in getting the new building program under way.

"I've always been proud of PWA," he said, "but I'm prouder of it today than ever before. It's a wonder to me that more of you have not broken under the terrific rush is over I've asked your superiors to let up a little and to gear the pace to normal activity."

The announcement was greeted with a burst of cheers. "Remember, now," Ickes said, smiling, "I said normal activity—not subnormal."

Again there were cheers. Ickes laughed.

"I think," he said, "that you are deliberately trying to misunderstand me."

FCC FIREWORKS

There will shortly be more axings in the federal communications commission. The flurry the other day was just the beginning. A broad housecleaning of the long muddled agency is under way, and the man behind it is Franklin Delano Roosevelt.

The president is thoroughly disgusted with the FCC and has told intimates he is prepared to ask the resignations of certain commissioners to put life into the agency. McNinch was ordered to start wielding the axe before the president departed for the Pacific coast last August, but McNinch became ill before he could act and everything was held up until he returned last week.

There is strong resentment in the administration against Payne and Commissioner T. A. M. Craven, who was appointed expressly to aid McNinch to reorganize the commission. Instead he has lined up with Payne. Before the vote to dismiss Gary, the White House called Craven and asked him to support the move. He promised. But on the showdown in the commission he echoed Payne's no.

There is no government agency in Washington more urgently in need of a housecleaning. A confidential aide who made a study of the FCC for the president reported that the legal and examining divisions were of very poor caliber and that some of the others were not much better. The only one that was not sharply criticized was the engineering division. The investigator also reported that Payne absented himself frequently from Washington and his work.

About The Bills

NO. 7, RELIEF ADMINISTRATION

The act, presented as a constitutional amendment by the senate, gives the legislature or the people full power over all relief agencies and the right to consolidate them or change all types of relief laws and relief administrations, either directly by the state or by returning relief administration to the counties.

Its supporters claim the relief commission and relief administration were not intended to be permanent, but only to administer a $24,000,000 fund in 1934. "Confusion and hardship," they say, because state unemployment relief is handled separately from county aid to employable indigents and results in unfair and varying standards of relief. The amendment, they say, would provide for a general relief plan under the department of Social Welfare, preventing confusion and duplication.

Its opponents say it might cause a "pathetic state of chaos," if relief were returned to the counties under different standards and residence requirements, and declare it might "freeze" into the civil service a large number of employees.

Public opinion, or what somebody in office imagines to be public opinion, is our ruler. If public opinion is active, the politicians and people will up and take notice. There is a definite need for outspoken talking and thinking on public matters. Honest, intelligent fair discussion of our problems is immensely useful. ### THE NEWCOMB CASE

To the Editor: A little news item of interest to your readers should be found in the recent decree of the supreme court of this state in behalf of Sarah Newcomb in the case where the city of Newport Beach endeavored to take from her the title to certain lands in Newport Beach. The city succeeded in an action in the superior court of Orange county only to be set back by this recent decision of the supreme court.

It seems strange to the writer that the supervisors of Orange county and the city of Newport Beach officials have not been magnanimous enough to at least give back to the owner (Mrs. Newcomb) the money they received from the Irvine ranch people and others for the silt and dirt taken from the islands in the bay which are the property of this lady.

It further seems strange that the representatives of the Newport Yacht club should feel no compunction of conscience regarding the denial of the rights of Mrs. Newcomb over the control of her property. The club has assumed all rights of control and revenue in the anchorages. There are many men of excellent character identified with this club, but who in this particular situation have gone far astray as to what is justice to Mrs. Newcomb.

The writer has helped to fight the battle over this land for Mrs. Newcomb, and the United States supreme court is yet to be heard from. He asks that all Christian people support the justice may be done to Mrs. Newcomb.

STEPHEN B. DEXTER.
Los Angeles.

EXPORT THE RELIEFERS

To the Editor: An immigration paragraph of yours recalls an experience in Germany sometime ago. It illustrates the difference between American living standards and those of Continental Europe. At a dinner at a professor's home we were served a most appetizing dish. Everybody smacked their lips.

On the road home the writer said to a German friend, "We all enjoyed the meal. Just what however was the basis of that principal dish?" He answered, "One hesitates to tell an American. It is edible, enjoyable, nourishing. But it was a 'light' or lung tissue of an ox." One's reaction was almost like that at finding in Arizona, a "tuna" salad was of rattlesnake meat.

If this were true in a professor's home, what of the living standards of Germany, Europe, of the Mediterranean? It is from these latter areas, where living standards are discouragingly depressed, that come many of those aliens who bulk largely among those on relief. Why should American taxpayers support them?

All countries, except ours, deport aliens becoming public charges. Here highly organized hyphenates bulldoze our public officials into action that would not be tolerated abroad. The real menace herein lies in the differential birthrate. The highly intelligent multiply slowly. One family on relief here has some 14 children, all lowpowered. This rate, means 196 grandchildren. An old American one, at its 3-child rate will have 9.

C. M. GOETHE.
Sacramento, Calif.

THE SAVING RETORT

More than once Henry Ward Beecher found his quickness and force at repartee a powerful weapon against those who would interfere with his great labors.

Once as Mr. Beecher neared the climax of a powerful plea, someone, concealed in the back of the hall suddenly grooved like a rooster. The imitation was excellently rendered and many people were forced to laugh in spite of themselves.

In that moment it seemed that the whole effect of the minister's appeal would be lost; but Mr. Beecher proved equal to the occasion. Feigning great surprise, Mr. Beecher pulled out his watch and exclaimed, "Morning already! And my watch indicates only ten o'clock. Yet I am sure there can be no mistake; the instincts of the lower animals are infallible."

I'LL TELL YOU....

BY BOB BURNS

I think the most kind-hearted and tactful bunch of men I ever saw in my life are these directors out here in Hollywood. They've got a way of turning you down for a part and making you feel good about it. They'll tell a woman she's too young. I use 'ta think it was just a part of their business, but now I believe they're naturally tactful.

The other day one of 'em was out huntin' and he mistook his friend for a rabbit and shot him. He rushed over and took his friend in his arms and says: "I'm sorry—I mistook you for a noble stag or a bull moose."

DALE
CARNegie's
Day
—By—
Day
Philosophy

I met on the S. S. De Grasse last summer a charming young American woman who lived abroad. She was returning to Italy to be married. On her last trip here, she had spent only a month in America; and, during that time she had been studying subjects that she felt would help her to be a good wife and a good mother; subjects such as cooking and the feeding and training of babies and the psychology of rearing children. What a sensible girl! If nature is kind, some day she will be faced with the most important problem on earth to her: the rearing of children. Why don't all our schools teach young women how to handle this problem more intelligently? Why?

There is one quality that is almost universally hated; and another that is universally admired. I am thinking of conceit and humility. The small soul, the untutored man, is afraid to admit that he doesn't know. It usually takes a big man to be humble. And the bigger the man, the more likely he is to be humble. For example, take Montague Norman who has been governor of the Bank of England since 1920. He is one of the best known and learned financiers in the world; yet he is humble enough to ride to work every morning in the subway—or "tube" to the Londoner. He asks that all Christian people support the justice may be done to Mrs. Newcomb.

Why don't you and I cultivate that same spirit of humility? If we are possessed with a disastrous nauseating know-it-all attitude, let's kill it as we would destroy a diamond-back rattlesnake. If we don't know a thing, let's frankly admit it. Do that and people will have increased respect for your intelligence.

John Gunther in his book, "Inside Europe," shows how the ruling classes of England use propaganda and censorship to get what they want. Do they do it by strong-arm methods? Definitely no. Oh, I say, that wouldn't be cricket, not in England. They do it by voluntary conspiracy. For example, during the war in Abyssinia, every editor in Fleet street knew the approximate strength of the British fleet in the Mediterranean; but no paper printed it. Why? Because again it wasn't cricket. Some official in the foreign office would call an editor on the phone and say:

"Look, my dear fellow, I can't ask you not to print this information; but it would be awfully decent if you wouldn't."
